A screenshot of a Microsoft Word document. At the top, there's a ribbon with tabs like 'Home', 'Insert', 'Page Layout', etc. Below the ribbon is a toolbar with icons for bold, italic, etc. The main area contains a table with two rows. The first row has one cell containing the formula $\text{Profit} = \text{Revenue} - \text{Cost}$. The second row has one cell containing the formula $\text{Profit} = (\text{Price} - \text{Cost}) \times \text{Quantity}$. To the right of the table is a chart showing a bell curve with a red vertical line at the peak labeled 'Optimal Price'. At the bottom left, there's a section titled 'Example' with a small icon.
